rock climbing, table tennis, roller skating, board games, horse riding, volleyball, bungee jumping, water skiing

17b

I think bungee jumping, rock climbing, horse riding and water skiing can be dangerous.

At bungee jumping people jump from very high places. The rope can tear or you can bump into a building or a rock.

You can slide and fall at rock climbing.

You can fall off a horse at horse riding.

If the boat goes too fast you can get hurt at water skiing.

You need a bicycle for cycling.

You need a ball to play football.

You need swimwear for swimming.

You need a racket and a ball to play tennis.

You need a saddle for horse riding.

My favourite holiday was in New York. I got up quite early. Then I had breakfast. Then I went to different famous places in New York. For lunch I had a pizza in Central Park. In the afternoon I went to Manhattan and admired the Statue of Liberty. At night I went to the Times Square and enjoyed watching the crowd. In New York I never watched Tv or played computer games.

30c

Once upon a time there lived a rich (poor) woodcutter. He had an ugly (beautiful) daughter. One day he told the king that his daughter can make golden shoes (spin straw into gold). The king took the girl into the living room (tower). There was a big pile of wool (straw) to spin into gold. A fairy (little strange man) helped the girl. In return, she gave him the necklace and her ring. Because she had nothing else to give in return for his help, the girl promised her father's house (firstborn baby) to the little man. Long (soon) after the birth of her baby, the little man came to collect the debt. The girl pleaded and pleaded and the little man agreed not to take the baby if she could guess his age (name). The girl couldn't guess his name so the man promised to come again in a year's time (the next day). That night a messenger told the girl that he saw a little man in the kitchen (woods), dancing around the fire and singing about his name. Then the man came the next morning, the girl guessed his name and the man jumped into the well (was never seen again).

Hi, José,

My holiday is almost over. Tomorrow we are going back home. It was nice to be in touch with you all this time. Thank you for interesting e-mails I got from you and I hope next year we are going to spend our holiday together.

I had a wonderful time. I met many nice people and went to several interesting places. We swam a lot and I even tried diving. It was amazing to see different kinds of fish and sea plants. This summer I also started rock climbing in nature. I was a little afraid but it was awesome and was very proud that I came to the top of the rock. I also enjoyed talking to people from different countries. I improved my English and found out it is very useful to know it. I'll learn English even more intensively.

I'm really interested in how you spent your holiday, so I hope to receive your reply very soon.

Lot's of love,
Mark

Hi, Ms Brown,

I don't know YOU, but DON'T STOP the chain and send this letter to ALL your friends. This chain letter brings you a lot of money. Just send it in the next 8 minutes. Good luck waits for YOU and your friends.

Bye,

Sandy

Subject: YOUR BOOK

Dear Ms Bina Štampe Žmavc,

I read your latest book ČARIMATIKA and would like to tell you that I liked it very much. It is funny and it combines Maths and Slovene. There are so many new inventive words in it. And I like the illustrations as well.

I am your great admirer and can hardly wait for your new book. Congratulations. I hope you are soon coming to our school because I would like to meet you and ask some questions.

Kind regards,
Anja Kokol
